

Celebrating

40 YEARS OF EMPOWERING FAMILIES

FY25 Impact Report
July 1, 2024 – June 30, 2025

As we celebrate 40 years of impact at YPN, I am filled with gratitude for every individual who has played a role in shaping this organization. From the visionary leaders and passionate volunteers who laid the foundation, to the dedicated board members, generous donors, committed staff, and supportive community who continue to carry the mission forward—you have made YPN what it is today.

This milestone is not just a reflection of years passed, but of countless lives touched, families strengthened, and given hope for the future. While we honor and celebrate our past, we also look ahead with determination. The needs of families are ever-changing, and YPN must continue to grow, adapt, and lead with compassion and purpose.

As we prepare for the next chapter, we ask for your continued support and guidance. Together we can ensure that YPN remains a source of support, education, and empowerment for generations to come.

Thank you for believing in this mission and for walking beside us on this remarkable journey. Here's to the past 40 years—and to all that lies ahead.

With gratitude,

YPN Executive Director

I'm a mom, and I know how overwhelming it can feel at times, even when a great network of support surrounds you. I'm proud to serve YPN because I know what tremendous resources YPN offers to families in our community – providing a network of support that all parents need at times! The care and guidance provided by YPN staff is top-notch – and the incentives to earn diapers, clothing, and more provide parents with tangible rewards for their commitment to broadening their parenting skillset. I have attended group nights and other events and interacted with parents and their children; it's great to see them take action to be the best parents they can be!

Building Bright Futures

YPN's Building Bright Futures core programming model provides participants with comprehensive, long-term prenatal and parenting services, offering families the support, education, and empowerment they need, while also connecting them with their peers in a safe environment. YPN staff guides and supports the entire family for as long as they wish to participate or until their child begins kindergarten. The Building Bright Futures program is currently offered in seven different languages. YPN offers transportation, childcare, and a meal to all participants at no cost.

YPN has helped my family with many things, from advice for my children to learning developmental milestones, and helping us locate referrals. YPN also helps us earn points to use in the We Care Shop, which provides diapers, wipes, clothing, and more. We are so grateful for your time, patience, and support.

When I meet with my YPN staff, Kelly, I feel so safe, and that my children are cared for by YPN. Thank you for all you've done for our family.”

Luke, Anne, and their son, Levi
2024 - current

Luke and Anne initially participated in our Building Bright Futures program. Luke and Anne have two children, Sabrina (4 years old) and Levi (8 months). Luke enjoyed participating in the Dads' Group, while Anne first joined the Toddler/Preschool Moms' Group before transitioning to the Newborn/Infant Group. Later, they started participating in YPN's Parents as Teachers Home Visitation Program. In this program, they reported feeling more confident in their ability to take care of Levi and felt empowered by their ability to use their efforts in home visits and other healthy behaviors to earn points for the We Care Shop. Luke and Anne continue to thrive by building connections at both group and throughout their home visit experience.

We have learned a great deal about how to care for Levi. Everything about the Dads' Group has been great – getting to know the other dads, and the facilitators – I love everything about it.”

The points are then used to purchase baby and childcare items.

The We Care Shop is run by YPN staff and volunteers who assist parents with their shopping needs, including baby care items, formula, diapers, gently used clothing (sizes 0-5T), toys, games, books, and more. Community members have donated all items in the We Care Shop.

EASTERN IOWA
DIAPER Bank

a collaborative of

More than 2.8 MILLION
diapers have been given to families in need since 2016!

The Eastern Iowa Diaper Bank (EIDB) was created in 2016 by YPN and the Eastern Iowa Health Center (EIHC). These organizations saw a common need: Diapers. So simple, yet so important. Seeing the hardship that diaper costs have created for some of the community's most vulnerable families, they developed an incentive-model program where families can earn diaper points by participating in YPN prenatal and parenting programs, being a patient of EIHC, and/or receiving WIC services.

We know that one in two families in the United States struggles to afford diapers for their children. Thanks to generous donations, we can help to alleviate that financial stress for our families.

Reflecting on the past 40 years, what stands out to me is how a single person's passion to provide support to four teen moms has grown to be the outstanding agency it is today. It's easy to be impressed by the numbers — the thousands of parents striving to be the best parents they can be, at the same time facing unimaginable barriers. The thousands of hours that our selfless staff, board members, and volunteers have provided to make these families successful. The hundreds of community partners and donors who made it all possible. But beyond the numbers, I think of the incredible families we've had the privilege to empower — whose resilience, dedication, and love for their children have been the true driving force behind YPN's success.”

~Kathy Kaiden

YPN Director of Development, 1995-2020

MELD was there for me when I found myself pregnant at age 17. They offered birthing classes and classes to help through early childhood. I was supported through this trying time in my life. I'm still friends with some moms I met there.

My favorite part of attending programming was gathering with peers and not feeling judged. I enjoyed being able to bring my husband (we were not married at the time) to the prenatal classes since we were going through this journey together.

Many years later, I was the Prenatal Coordinator at YPN! I was proud to help other moms by sharing my education and own parenting experiences with them.

Today, I am an OB nurse with over 25 years of nursing experience. My husband and I have been married for 31 years. Our son Zachary is now 34 years old. He has two sisters, who are 23 years old and 19 years old.

This program is invaluable. I found pride in both being a participant and an employee.”

Amber and son Christopher

YPN impacted my life by helping me build friendships with other moms in similar situations to mine. I still run into old YPN friends, and we talk about our kids and now grandkids. YPN was supportive, educational, and I always felt welcome.

I remember building relationships and gaining knowledge on how to care for my child, as well as the importance of caring for myself.

Today, I own my own home and work as a preschool teacher. I recently completed my bachelor's degree in psychology from St. Ambrose University and am working to become a therapist. My son is now 32 years old, has two associate's degrees, and is now an Electrician. He is married with a 2-year-old daughter. My son and I have always had a close relationship, and I love visiting him and his family.

YPN holds a very special place in my heart because they were there for me and my family in a time that was very scary for me.”

James & Caitlyn, and daughter Aria 2017-2021

We had an amazing experience with YPN. When we started, my then-boyfriend was 22 and I was 19, and we were facing an unexpected pregnancy. We had very negative reactions from family and did not have a support network. Coming to YPN, there was no judgment, and we had someone else sharing in the excitement we felt to be first-time parents. James and I welcomed our first daughter, Aria, in December of 2017. Shortly after getting home, both the Moms' Program Specialist and the Dads' Program Specialist stopped by to make sure we were settling in. During weekly groups, I began meeting other moms with babies the same age as mine, and we would share similar struggles and frustrations, becoming new moms in a space with no judgment. James was able to discuss his struggles with adjusting to parenthood in his Dads' Group without feeling like he was a bad dad. We continued attending as Aria got older, and she began making friends as well. This group was amazing for us!

Without YPN, we would not have built the connections and support network we have today. I met my best friend at Moms' Group, and our daughters have now been best friends since. If I were talking with a stranger about YPN, I would tell them that attending the classes will be life-changing in the best ways. You gain a network of friends and mentors who support you in every way.

Today, Aria is now seven years old. We have also since welcomed another daughter, Amelia, who is two years old. We have gotten married, purchased our own home, and welcomed 2 dogs. We also both have full-time employment in our fields of study. Without YPN, I don't believe we would be where we are now, as we learned so much about healthy relationships, money management, and resource navigation."

YPN Volunteers

YPN volunteers are the best in our community! They are the heartbeat of our organization, and we would not be able to provide the services that we do without them. By giving of their time and talents, these dedicated and caring individuals save our organization critical dollars that can go directly to supporting programming for the participants we serve.

I first started volunteering with YPN to fulfill the service hours I needed for a class. I never expected that almost 15 years later I'd still be there. The staff at YPN, the children and families they serve, along with YPN's commitment to the community, have kept me returning every week. YPN is a vital resource that will empower families for generations to come. I am proud to be a part of their work and to make a positive impact on the lives of so many families."

~Tracy Ehlert, YPN Volunteer

"The work that YPN does to give a hand up and not a handout empowers parents and allows them to have a successful life. Raising kids is hard, even in the best circumstances; for many families, having a support system like YPN is invaluable. I support their mission because I have witnessed the impact they have made."

~Chris Edwards, YPN Board of Directors & Trustees

"I've known about YPN since the 80s, and I have known many people who have used their services. As a volunteer in childcare and the We Care Shop, I have witnessed the commitment that parents make to the program and their families. They earn points, and I see the joy that comes from being able to get diapers, clothing, and toys for their children. I see the difference that YPN makes in their lives."

~Barb Pino, YPN Volunteer

"Fathers are greatly underserved, but we know the impact that engaged fathers have on their children. I've seen parents come to group feeling like they're alone, and after sitting with their peers, they realize they're not. I enjoy the connections I've made with families over the past 16 years, and I will always treasure my time with YPN."

~Jim Brown, YPN Volunteer & Board of Directors

"I serve with YPN because I can be part of something bigger than me, and I know the difference their impact makes."

~Aaron-Marie Thoms, YPN Board of Directors
